Hi Michael,

This is Serge from Airbnb. I hope this email finds you well.

Thank you for following up regarding this matter. We can see that you have opted to not share your contact information with the Host.

Airbnb is an online platform and does not own, operate, manage or control accommodations, nor do we verify private contract terms or arbitrate complaints from third parties.

We do, however, require Hosts to represent that they have all the rights to list their accommodations. As such, we take these types of complaints seriously and are committed to notifying Hosts when we receive them.

However, we regret to inform you that without being able to share your contact details with the Host, we will be unable to proceed further with communicating your complaint to the Host.

If you would like us to share your request and information with the Host, please reply to this email with a link to the Airbnb listing and a scanned copy of a letter that details your specific allegation or requests. It should include your contact information.

Kind regards,

Airbnb Support
