Hello Michael,

My name is Sascha, and I'm a case manager with the Airbnb Safety Team. I'm reaching out in continued support following the report involving an unauthorized party, gunfire, and property damage at a neighboring listing. This message will now serve as the primary point of contact, as the previous case has been formally closed.

First and foremost, I want to express how truly sorry I am for what you experienced. I can only imagine how frightening and upsetting the incident must have been. I'm incredibly relieved to know that you were not physically harmed, and I understand how unsettling this situation must continue to feel.

Please know that we have already taken action on the guest's account in accordance with our policies. Action was also taken on the Host's account, and with the additional report now received, we are reviewing whether further steps are warranted.

If you have filed a police report, please feel free to share the following link with the investigating officer. It will allow law enforcement to contact Airbnb directly through our secure Law Enforcement Response Portal:

In regard to the reported damage to your home, I want to share more information about Airbnb's Host Liability Insurance, which is designed to support in situations like this. I've informed our Claims team about the additional report, and someone from that team will be reaching out to you directly as soon as possible.

You can read more about the Host Liability Insurance here:

If you could please attach pictures of the damage to this message it would be greatly appreciated.

I'll be working until 8:30 PM EST this evening and would appreciate hearing back from you at your earliest convenience, should you have any questions or additional information to share.

Sincerely,

Sascha
